Transforming Transportation

Talk 1: Revitalizing mass transit in the motorized metropolis – case studies of Mexico City and Istanbul. Since 2002, EMBARQ and its network of Centers for Sustainable Transport have been working in cities in developing countries to catalyze and help implement solutions to problems associated with urban mobility. This first lecture will present details on the EMBARQ Networks approach and outcomes in Mexico City and Istanbul and a brief overview of efforts in the Andean countries, India and Brazil.
