“Transportation Trends and Investment Implications”

Featured Speaker:
Christopher J. Ceraso
Director & Senior Equity Research Analyst
Credit Suisse, New York

Chris Ceraso is the Senior Equity Analyst covering the Transportation Sector for Credit Suisse in New York. He covers railroads, trucking, air freight and logistics, in addition to the auto sector.

Chris will provide an overview of the transportation industry as a whole with specific comments on important trends in each sector. He has also been asked to comment on intermodal transportation and the impact of events in China and Europe on transportation and the supply-chain.

In 2008 Chris was honored by the Financial Times and Starmine as one of the Top-10 most accurate analysts across all sectors in the US and the Number One most accurate analyst in the auto components sector. In 2009, Chris was named among the “Best on the Street” by the Wall Street Journal for his coverage of the auto sector. Prior to joining Credit Suisse, Chris worked for six years at Merrill Lynch in the Private Client division, including three years as the Controller of the Financial Planning business unit. Chris is a Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) with a degree in Marketing.
