JULIUS JUNG
Entrepreneur & Consultant

Julius Jung is an internationally experienced entrepreneur based in New York City. After his studies in Germany, the U.S. and Norway, Julius graduated in Business Engineering at the Karlsruhe Institute of Technology (KIT) University in Germany. In 2008, Julius started working as Consultant and Project Manager at Porsche Consulting, the consulting division of the car manufacturer Porsche AG, in both Europe and in the US. In 2015, Julius founded Jung Management Consulting LLC to consult businesses in digital strategy and manufacturing technology (Industry 4.0).

Simultaneously, Julius started the US-division of the start-up FeedbackNow, the global market leader in real-time customer feedback solutions. Julius heads the North American market focusing on client industries such as Airports & Transportation, Retail, Hospitality and Financial Services.

In his free time, Julius is engaged with the German American Chamber of Commerce, for which he acts as speaker, mentor for their start-up program and, since 2017, as ambassador for their Young Professional Network.
HANI MAHMASSANI
Director - NUTC

Hani S. Mahmassani is Director of the Transportation Center, and the William A. Patterson Distinguished Professor in Transportation at Northwestern University, which he joined on September 1, 2007, with joint appointments in the McCormick School of Engineering and the Kellogg School of Management. He previously served in endowed faculty positions at the University of Maryland and at the University of Texas at Austin. Dr. Mahmassani has over 32 years of experience as a researcher, scholar and professional in the transportation and logistics area.

Dr. Mahmassani is recognized nationally and internationally for a broad array of transportation research achievements; his applications span both passenger and freight, and he has been especially effective at connecting advanced models to emerging policy issues. He has pioneered the use of novel data sources and real-time data streams in transportation modeling and decision-making, including sensor data from intelligent transportation systems deployments, probe data from GPS and smartphones, transaction records from payment systems, and vehicle-based tracking systems. For the past few years, he has widely lectured on missed opportunities in agency and company data programs, and potential pitfalls in inappropriate data uses.

JODI NAVTA
Chief Marketing Officer - Coyote Logistics, A UPS Company

Jodi Navta is passionate about family, entrepreneurial spirit, moral citizenship, fostering creativity and teamwork, and the University of Michigan and Northwestern University. Jodi swam for the Wolverines while she was an undergrad, and earned Academic All-American and NCAA finalist status four years in a row.

After graduating from the University of Michigan and retiring from her 16-year swimming career, she started her career in media at Sports Illustrated magazine in New York City, then moved to Chicago to attend Northwestern University’s Medill School of Journalism, where she earned a master’s of science in journalism.

She most recently made her foray into the logistics industry in-house at Coyote Logistics, where she built the Marketing and Communications function from the ground up using an Integrated Marketing and Communication (IMC) approach. Jodi is a member of the management team responsible for overseeing Coyote’s growth from $350M to $2.2B in ~5 years and led the company through a recent acquisition by $60B-publicly-traded, United Parcel Service (UPS).

She is at the helm of brand reputation, internal communications and culture, lead generation, business strategy, sales enablement, executive communication, and public relations. Jodi rapidly built a “disruptive” marketing organization at Coyote that drove innovation and significant revenue growth in a short period of time.

Before joining Coyote, Jodi held a number of operations, marketing and communications, and strategy positions as a four-time entrepreneur from 2000 to 2011. Her experience includes content marketing and product development during industry-shifting times for major brands like Discovery, National Geographic, Pearson Education, Houghton Mifflin Harcourt, and also marketing and communications strategy for startups in the tech and mobile fields.
